

VOLUME 31 NUMBER 4 DECEMBER 2012

New Genetics and Society

5

0

2

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group

ISSN: 1463-6778

CONTENTS

Articles

Attitudes of university students in Hong Kong about the use of genomic science and technology
Edwin Hui, Kathy Chow, Danny Leung, Hori Chan and Dorian Wu 323

Public discourses of stem cell science in Singapore (1997–2010)
Tamra Lysaght and Benjamin J. Capps 342

Cyborg stem cells in public: deconstructing and taking responsibility for categorizations
Nicola J. Marks 359

A comment on the Hill–Turney exchange: from normative antagonism to interdisciplinary collaboration
Martin Evison, Eleanor Graham, Erica Haimes, Jackie Leach Scully, Anika Ludwig, Chris Maguire, Victor Toom and Robin Williams 385

Disclosure of genetic information to relatives in Israel: between privacy and familial responsibility
Roy Gilbar and Sivia Barnoy 391

On being a (modern) scientist: risks of public engagement in the UK interspecies embryo debate
James Porter, Clare Williams, Steven Wainwright and Alan Cribb 408

National interests and international collaboration: tensions and ambiguity among Finns towards usages of tissue samples
Aaro Tupasela and Karoliina Snell 424

Corrigendum 442

*Corresponding author. Email: edwinhui@hkust.edu.hk