

TIME

HATE IN AMERICA

by

NANCY GIBBS
EDDIE S. GLAUDE JR.
JOHN GRISHAM
JON MEACHAM
ILHAN OMAR
TAVIS SMILEY

6
8
0

2 | Conversation
4 | For the Record

The Brief

News from the U.S. and around the world

5 | The danger of improvising U.S. foreign policy

8 | Deportations may come faster as immigration courts speed up

9 | Postcard from Guam, the island in North Korea's crosshairs

10 | A polar bear on thin ice in the warming Canadian Arctic

12 | Violent clashes erupt in Nairobi after a contested election

The View

Ideas, opinion, innovations

15 | Ian Bremmer: It's not worth picking a trade war with China

16 | Meet iGen, the spooked generation born after 1995

17 | The world's longest foot-bridge opens in the Swiss Alps

17 | The scoop on ice cream's history as a health food

18 | Drilling for clean energy in Iceland

Special Report

□ Hate in America

A violent clash at a white-supremacist rally in Charlottesville, Va., ignites a battle for the nation's soul
By Nancy Gibbs 20

President Trump forgoes unity to fan the flames of tribal grievance
By Michael Scherer and Alex Altman 26

The long and tangled origins of modern extremism
By Jon Meacham 32

Where do we go from here? Viewpoints from Eddie S. Glaude Jr., John Grisham, Ilhan Omar and Tavis Smiley 38

Time Off

What to watch, read, see and do

43 | Lakeith Stanfield's star turn in Crown Heights

47 | Unlikely television heroes

48 | Behind the scenes of boxing's big spectacle

52 | 10 Questions for pastor Jen Hatmaker

▲ A vigil in front of the White House on Aug. 13 memorializes a social-media post from Heather Heyer, who died protesting the Unite the Right rally in Charlottesville, Va.

Photograph by Zach Gibson—AFP/Getty Images

ON THE COVER: Illustration by Edel Rodriguez for TIME