

Ukraine on Edge / God in the Dark / Grading U.S. Colleges

TIME

THE PATRIOT

SHINZO ABE dreams of a more powerful, assertive Japan. Why that makes many people uncomfortable

BY HANNAH BEECH

BANGLADESH: Tk 310.00
 CHINA: RMB 55.00
 HONG KONG: HK$ 65.00
 INDIA: ₹ 120.00
 JAPAN: ¥ 840.00
 KOREA: ₩ 8,000.00
 MALAYSIA: RM 12.00
 MEXICO: $ 12.00
 NEPAL: N Rs 240.00
 SINGAPORE: S$ 9.50
 SRI LANKA: Rs 320.00
 TAIWAN: NT$ 220.00
 U.S. ARMED FORCES: US$ 6.50

2 | Conversation

BRIEFING

3 | Verbatim

4 | LightBox

Marathon runners at the starting line in North Korea

6 | World

Afghan elections head for a runoff; a history of panda diplomacy

8 | World

A dilemma for the West as Putin flexes his muscles in Ukraine

10 | United States

A white supremacist proves himself wrong

11 | Milestones

Boston Strong one year later; farewell to the king of sports trivia

COMMENTARY

13 | Viewpoint

Andrey Kurkov on Vladimir Putin's game in Ukraine

14 | Viewpoint

Charlotte McDonald-Gibson on Belgium's antiharassment bill

15 | In the Arena

Joe Klein on Medicare in a U.S. Senate campaign

ON THE COVER:

Photograph by Takashi Osato for TIME

Barbara Brown Taylor, author of the spiritual memoir Learning to Walk in the Dark, on her property in Georgia. Photograph by Marco Grob for TIME

FEATURES

16 Shinzo Abe's Mission

The powerful Prime Minister seeks to rebuild Japan's muscle
by Hannah Beech

22 Mercado Mania

A new wave of shopping-mall development in the U.S. is catering to Hispanic shoppers
by Sam Frizell

26 Let There Be Night

Author and preacher Barbara Brown Taylor explores the spiritual power of darkness
by Elizabeth Dias

32 School Grades

A new U.S. initiative may link college ratings with federal aid
by Haley Sweetland Edwards

THE CULTURE

36 | Television

John Oliver brings cheekiness to HBO

39 | Wellness

Chinese herbs go mainstream

40 | Pop Chart

What pop culture does to baby names

42 | Music

Electronic-dance-music star Skrillex and pop's newfound love of noise

46 | The Awesome Column

Joel Stein sells Herbalife

48 | 10 Questions

Actor Colin Firth

John Oliver